1. The Linking Standards and Quality Practice (LiSQuP), a scholarship program of the Department of Education (DepEd) implemented through the National Educators Academy of the Philippines (NEAP), in partnership with the Philippine Normal University (PNU), is now in the final phase of its implementation. In light of this, the Project Development Team (PDT) from PNU will be conducting an online and onsite Final Impact Study of the program on August 8-22, 2025 across regions.
2. A simultaneous online pilot implementation will be conducted in NCR on 8 August 2025. Online and onsite interviews with scholars' students, peers, immediate supervisors, and members of the school community will follow in batches from 11 to 22 August 2025. Additionally, an online Focus Group Discussion (FGD) with scholars will be held within August and September 2025 (See Enclosures 3 & 4).
3. The following are expected to assist and participate in the conduct of the activities, along with their respective roles:

Participants	Tasks
A. HRDD Chiefs	Responsible for overseeing and ensuring the smooth and effective implementation of the Final Impact Study.
B. LiSQuP Regional Focals	Tasked with assisting and accompanying the PNU-PDT team throughout the activity. They are also responsible for coordinating with schools and involved personnel, as well as managing logistical requirements to support the study's successful execution.

C. Select Scholars and their Immediate Supervisors, colleagues, and select students	Each regional data collection visit comprises interviews with the peers, subordinates, and students to gain in-depth views of the project's impact through the outcomes attained by the scholars. There are three workstation visits for each region, as informed by scholar data points based on teaching and non-teaching roles: (1) teacher, (2) master teacher, (3) school head or supervisor or guidance counselor.

4. The study will assess the effectiveness of the program as implemented across various groups. Furthermore, the data collection activities are expected to generate evidence-based insights that will inform policy development within the Department of Education, particularly in enhancing professional development programs and supporting the career progression of teachers and education leaders.
5. The data gathering activities will revolve around the following areas of inquiry:
  - a. Scholars' perceptions of the relevance, quality, and value of the LiSQuP program after completing the academic courses
  - b. The extent of knowledge gain and attitudinal change among scholars following their participation in the LiSQuP program
  - c. The application of quality practices learned from the LiSQuP program in classroom instruction and respective workstations
  - d. The impact of scholar participation in the LiSQuP program on the following:
    - i. student learning outcomes (for teacher-scholars)
    - ii. teacher performance (for school head-scholars)
    - iii. instructional leadership of school heads (for supervisor-scholars)
    - iv. community-level changes
  - e. Insights on how the findings can inform the design of professional development programs to support the career progression of teachers and education leaders
6. The visits are characterized by the breadth of geographic spread of samples, which aims to capture different local contexts where the scholars are situated. In this regard, rich insights can be drawn from impact data that can inform the design and operation of professional development for in-service teaching and non-teaching staff of the department across the Philippines. Hence, inter-island transfers and long land travels are imperative to reach the respective workstations of the selected scholar samples.
7. The following supplementary data and information are attached for further guidance and reference:

- Enclosure 1 : Research Locale and Number Participants for the Regional Onsite Visits
- Enclosure 2 : Number of Scholars per Program for the Regional Onsite Visits
- Enclosure 3 : Timeframe

The Linking Standards and Quality Practice (LiSQuP) project is a professional development (PD) program under the partnership of the Department of Education (DepEd) - National Educators Academy of the Philippines (NEAP) and the Philippine Normal University (PNU). It is a standards-based scholarship program that is now in the final phase of its implementation. Several scholars from the first cohort (2021) and the second cohort (2022) have already earned their completion credentials from the University, while other MA scholars from both cohorts are in the process of completing their thesis to obtain a degree from the program.

To support the project's final evaluation, this is to respectfully request permission from your Office to invite and conduct onsite and online Focus Group Discussions (FGD)/ interviews with students of the teacher-scholars engaged in the project on July 25, 2025, Friday. This will further help the researchers to gather in-depth insights into the scholar's performance and its effect on the student's learning development. Each FGD and interview will last approximately 45 to 60 minutes and may be audio-recorded for data analysis. To triangulate the data, the researchers will also review relevant documents such as student profiles and academic records. Strict confidentiality will be maintained; no student names or identifying details will appear in any report.
